Criteria and weighting	Level	Comments
Knowledge and understanding of the topic/ issues under consideration (30%)	Excellent	Overall excellent knowledge and understanding of the topic with discussion being fluid and well applied to the context. The content felt as though it was structured and planned and there is a genuine attempt to apply varied and relevant research to the context.
Criticality (30%)	Very good	There is a very good sense of developing criticality in your content. There is comparison of research and some debate emerging and so continue with this approach for your next summative. There is real world applicability in your content which is well underpinned with theory which is good to see.
Use of relevant sources (20%)	Very good	Very good use of research with appropriate content, and a range of research resources that are relevant to your subject and which are current.
Structure and Presentation (as detailed in the assessment guidance) (10%)	Very good	The layout of the assignment is completed to a very good standard. It would have been beneficial to add a contents page to the assignment to give the presentation addition academic, professional finesse but it is clear that time and planning have been applied to the presentation of the assignment.
Academic integrity (10%)	Very good	Avoid listing and bullet points in an academic assignment, use as many of your own words in paragraphs as possible. Your list of references should also be placed on their own page at the end of the assignment. The assignment is within word count which is good practice and it is good to see an Appendix reference in the assignment also, [to reflect some of your thought processes]. Only use speech marks if denoting a quote. If using a quotation then cite immediately after. Regular citation occurred, back by an appropriate list of references, however take every opportunity to cite, and so where facts and research are discussed in a conclusion for example cite. You do have a strong emerging academic writing tone in your assignment and so do take this approach forward for future summative. Overall, taking all into account here, this is a very good outcome.
